

Your story is important!

Let's reclaim and preserve Arizona history for future generations!

Memory in the Midst of Pandemic

Thursday, April 30, 12–1 p.m.

How can we document this difficult moment? Should we document this difficult moment?

Join us for a discussion on what archiving means during this time, and what steps students and community members can take to preserve your materials. Archivists from ASU Library's Community-Driven Archives Initiative and Labriola National American Indian Data Center will share resources and tools for ASU and community members.

Zoom Link for the event: <https://asu.zoom.us/j/92951427349>